SPOTLIGHT ON SCOTT GALVIN
COMMUNITY CENTER

What was once a bustling student/athletic center for the now closed Johnson and Wales University (North Miami campus), the modernized three-story facility has been opened to the North Miami public and renamed the Scott Galvin Community Center. As a result, the City of North Miami will hold a dedication ceremony for the renaming of the recently acquired building and will continue to broaden its use by offering a variety of programming, meeting space and the like to the city’s growing population. The dedication ceremony is scheduled for Thursday, November 17, 2022, at 7PM, 1600 NE 126 ST, North Miami, FL 33181.

North Miami Mayor and City Council named the Scott Galvin Community Center on June 28, 2022, after the city’s longest-serving councilman, Scott Galvin. The councilman was first elected in 1999 to the North Miami City Council and continued to serve as councilman for six consecutive terms. A devoted North Miami native, Councilman Galvin has an extensive history serving the public which dates as far back as grade school when he served as North Miami High Student Government President. Since then, his life’s journey led him to serve as a middle school teacher; congressional aide to U.S. Representative Carrie P. Meek; vice president of Education for Junior Achievement of Greater Miami; executive director (current) of Safe Schools South Florida; board member of AIDS Healthcare Foundation; president of North Miami Jaycees and Greater North Miami Chamber of Commerce; and founding member of Greater North Miami Historical Society and Arch Creek East Neighborhood Association.

Because of his tireless commitment to public service and a plethora of achievements, North Miami Mayor and City Council desired to permanently honor the legacy of Councilman Galvin by renaming the former student/athletic center to the Scott Galvin Community Center. Congratulations Councilman Galvin!
